

Demo site online

I have put a new rwts Joomla demo site online at demo.rwts.com.au.

There is a bit over 100 templates (including the one on this site) there for people to browse through. It does a pretty good job of demonstrating some of the various options. I'm hoping this might also give me some new opportunities in terms of creating multiple sites for people easily, and might flow nicely in with my work with PY.

Perhaps we could develop some christ-centered themes?
